Too many noobies trying to build their own packs out of cheap batteries. (laptop, power tool batteries) using no BMS. Batteries are expensive because they are made well with quality batteries and BMS. Don't cheap out. ... Only gotcha is get your used batteries from a reliable supplier like BatteryHookup or BatteryClearinghouse.

Obviously in some cases rechargeable is not an option or its such a low drain device, it doesn't matter. In that case, Dollar Store batteries might work but for something like a coin battery for a key fob, I'd avoid the Dollar Tree Sunbeam coin batteries - they last about 2 or 3 months versus 2 or 3 years with Duracell or other quality cell.
