How much money do African countries need to produce lithium batteries?

The required capital expenditure ranges from USD 0.5-1.5 billion. African countries could refine materials for lithium battery production and export to the US and EU. Refining could be in countries that are currently mining raw materials required for battery cell production or have a plan to start by 2030. These include: 4.

Could African countries refine materials for lithium battery production & export?

African countries could refine materials for lithium battery production and export to the US and EU. Refining could be in countries that are currently mining raw materials required for battery cell production or have a plan to start by 2030. These include: 4. Presence of local battery demand or assembly 5. Presence of required talent 6.

How can Africa support the battery value chain?

Regionalizing the value chain: The 2021 Africa Continental Free Trade Agreement (AfCFTA) offers a unique opportunity for African countries to collaborate across the value chain, localizing production and enhancing cost competitiveness. Government Support: African governments are implementing policies to support the battery value chain.

Why is China a major producer of Li-ion batteries?

China is a major producer of Li-ion batteries and has streamlined supply chains, enabling efficient component procurement. Companies like CATL and BYD are prominent players in the Chinese battery market. The US has seen significant growth in energy storage demand.

Can Africa export LFP batteries to Europe?

African countries, particularly Tanzania and Morocco, could competitively produce and export LFP batteries to Europe by 2030 at USD 68-72/kWh. This could generate USD 10-15 billion annually and create 22,000-25,000 jobs, rivaling global manufacturers like China, Indonesia, Europe, and the US.

What is the global battery demand?

Global battery demand is projected to reach 7.8 TWh by 2035, with China, the US, and Europe representing 80%; Lithium-ion is ~80% of the demand. In Africa, majority of demand will come from electric two/three-wheelers and stationary battery energy storage systems (BESS) with ~3 GWh and ~4GWh of additional annual demand respectively by 2030.
